

[VIDEO MONTAGE OF DURRELL AND HIS CHILDREN]

[Durrell:] You see certain things get reincarnated in your children. My daughter is very much inspired by my wife's artistic pursuits. So my daughter started making necklaces. She makes what we call affirmation fashion. I tell her every day that your black is beautiful. Your black is beautiful. Your black is beautiful. And if there's anything better than being beautiful it's being smart. And if there's anything better than being smart, it's being kind. And reaffirming that every day is our method of making sure her chin never drops. My dad wasn't around. And I remember riding a bike and falling off and cutting myself. And me never just wanting to get back on it. People ask, how'd your children learn how to ride a bike, and you didn't? I didn't teach 'em. I just created an environment where they taught themselves. And all I have to do is be there.

[Never stop being a dad]

[# Dadication]

[fatherhood.gov]