

National Responsible Fatherhood Clearinghouse (NRFC) Come Join Our Virtual Collaborative Community!

Introduction

The National Responsible Fatherhood Clearinghouse (NRFC) Virtual Collaborative Community (VCC) provides fatherhood practitioners direct access to a network of other committed practitioners and fatherhood stakeholders.

The VCC is a community where we can come together, communicate with one another, engage in peer-to-peer learning activities, exchange resources and information about best practices, find and share useful content and materials, discuss new ideas and solutions to issues, and--most importantly--experience a private, trusted environment where we can collaborate with other fatherhood stakeholders.

Inside the VCC, we can discover new ideas together, from the rich history, research, and initiatives that have come before us, to new ways of strengthening existing relationships and creating a greater impact in the lives of fathers.
